Can you Beat the Flood?

Imagine living with the constant danger that you could lose your home at any time.

Our climate is changing and for many people living near riverbanks the fear of flooding is never far from home.

Practical Action works with communities to develop technologies and skills that people need to face the challenges caused by climate change including flood-resistant homes...an example of technology justice in action.

Find out more about the top five flood-resistant features in this house at practicalaction.org/beattheflood then add your information into the empty spaces above.

If you have your own ideas for a flood-proof home, why not design and build a model then enter our competition or gain a CREST Award?

practicalaction.org/beattheflood